

Georgina Nutton

I came into headship, as I knew this is where I could have the biggest impact on improving children's outcomes. I am passionate about transformational learning and changing lives.

I am currently the Headteacher at Preston Park Primary School, a large primary school in Wembley close to the iconic stadium. I am on an exciting journey with an incredible team as we implement innovative initiatives that will fundamentally improve teaching and learning.

On completing my MBA at the Institute of Education, I conducted research in Valparaiso, Chile and supported Chilean schools in rethinking curriculum design. In 2010 I was awarded Advanced Skills Teacher status and specialise in the field of Mathematics.

I love life and love learning.
