Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing to share with you that Ashley College will be moving to a new co-headship model of leadership.

Our current Headteacher, Ranjna Shiyani, will be working Monday to Thursday from November and Anne-Marie Mika, the current Deputy Headteacher will become interim Co-Headteacher. Together, Ranjna and Anne Marie will work collaboratively to ensure our pupils continue to receive the best possible learning experiences and outcomes.

Anne-Marie brings a wealth of experience to the role having been appointed as Deputy Head of Teaching, Learning and Assessment in July 2018. She is passionate about this provision and consistently strives to do the very best for our learners to secure best possible outcomes. She has a background in school improvement in Greenwich borough schools, as well as in Kent, and was successful in raising attainment in under-performing schools and influential in improving Ofsted outcomes. She is a trained Schools' Inspector and brings a wealth of leadership experience from mainstream schools.

As a management committee, we are committed to ensuring that this Co-Headship arrangement is successful and continues to drive improvement across the school and we welcome Anne-Marie to her new role.

If you have any questions, please free to reach out directly or via the school admin email address. We are always happy to discuss any concerns or queries you may have.

Thank you for your continued support.

Kind regards,

Nicky Chandarana
